Description

The project aims is to provide a public administration institution in Belarus, in particular the State Audit Committee of the Republic of Belarus, with experience in digitizing public administration and providing training for the target team, including certification. The main activities will be: 1. Creating and providing a learning module based on partners' needs, including localization; and 2. Providing training to the target group, including certification. The aim of the project is to transfer Asseco Central Europe's experience to Belarus and specific experience with the implementation of digitization in administrative processes of public administration from institutions with a similar focus in the Slovak Republic. Expected benefits will be: the competency of the target group, a software education system developed for the effectiveness of the institution's administrative control procedures, which will later assist in preparing the committee's staff for their preparation and the anticipated deployment of digitized processes in the institution for the future.
