Description

The volunteer and his activities will contribute to the Agenda 2030, to which Slovakia has committed itself in the field of poverty reduction and social inclusion. Its activities focus on a cross-cutting theme: human rights and human dignity. The role of the volunteer will be mainly logistical-administrative activities and activities and children on the project and social work with the so-called. outdoor children in the field. Outdoor children are those who are already leaving the project and returning to their family. The role of the volunteer is field work, inclusion of children in families and follow-up. Directly in the House of Family project, it will fill children's free time, organize joint activities for them and help promote the project at the local and foreign level. His role will also be to liaise with organizations operating in Cambodia and mini-projects related to the functioning of the House of Family. The two-color world has already sent 20 volunteers to the House project from Family since 2012. All projects have been successfully completed and we have had excellent experience with volunteers. They do not work on the project alone, but under the supervision of employees from Slovakia and a local partner.
