Description

The aim of the project is to assist in poverty reduction through the activities focused on the raise of education level, and as consequence, the enhancement of job opportunities of rural youth from Voi district in South-east Kenya. The goal of the project is the introduction of digital technologies to Kenya's high school education that will contribute to increase of its quality and decrease of education expenses and will provide skill learning necessary for pupils to gain the future jobs. By means of seminars and consultations between Slovak and Kenyan experts from business and pedagogical sectors and by the means of cooperation of Slovak and Kenyan pupils the partnership and network between Slovak and Kenyan schools will be created. Moreover, Slovak pupils and teachers will increase their tolerance and understanding towards their peers in developing countries and Kenyan pupils will be more motivated towards better outcomes from education process.
