Description

"Comprehensive Urban Governance" presents a cross-cutting theme of improving governance, planning and municipal self-government by implementing innovative strategic documents that include not only environment-related topics, but also education, employment and, last but not least, capacity building and competencies of municipalities in economic, environmental and social coordination of settlement development. The main objective of the project is to transfer the combined approach and successful experiences from the application of innovative strategic documents of the SR, such as the Development Action Plans at the administrative level of districts (micro / regions), and the comprehensive use and development of strategic territorial and regional plans. The project will be implemented as a pilot project, and therefore will be focused on a specific areas experiencing particular social and economic challenges connected to shrinking of population and consequent social and economic deprivation, including also tackling the issues of informal settlements, as so of municipalities of Zrenjanin, Sremska Mitrovica and Golubac, in connection to their adjacent territories. The project activities consist of three phases: (1) training in Slovakia and study visits in municipalities of good practice and governance, (2) participatory roundtables and conference in local conditions in selected municipalities and (3) common development and drafting of the comprehensive action plans.
